From the President ~

What wildly successful candidate events we've been involved with!

This year we partnered with Spotlight News, and that helped us with publicity, getting venues, and the taping of events. Not to mention the moderating skills Bill DeVoe brought to the table. We partnered with the Albany LWV, the Southern Saratoga and Colonie Chambers of Commerce for the Bob Reilly-Jennifer Whalen events. We helped the fledgling Warren County LWV with the Chris Gibson-Scott Murphy event that more than 900 people attended.

We wanted to have good turn-outs, but I am reminded of the old adage, "Be careful what you wish for." Standing room only, and not enough of that, was a problem. Kudos to our wonderful Voters' Service team: Ann Kril (Chair), Mary Lou Classen, Janice Burns, Terry Lowenthal, Debbie Peck Kelleher, Millie Green and our faithful VS volunteers: Helen Crawshaw, Margot Ammon, Pattie Garrett. And thanks to everyone who attended the many events.

Hold Sunday, June 5th for the Annual meeting. We wanted to get out of the rut of so many Saturday morning events, so this year we are going to the Vista at the Van Patten Golf Club for lunch. And the price will be the same! Our Speaker Ron Seyb's topic will be Who Speaks For Me? Free Speech, the Constitution and Corporations. By the way, Blair Horner told us about <http://www.citizen.org/stealthpacs>, a way to track the amount of money spent on political races by stealth PACs – they are interest groups that pay for ads, but don't have to disclose their donors.

I'm not entirely sure what elegant casual dress is, but I plan to enjoy myself at the Celebration of 90 Years of Women's Suffrage on Elizabeth Cady Stanton's Birthday. Hope to see you there.

Barb

What are horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing?

Hydraulic fracturing consists of pumping a fluid and a propping material such as sand down the well under high pressure to create fractures in the gas-bearing rock. The propping material (usually referred to as a "proppant") holds the fractures open, allowing more gas to flow into the well than would naturally. No blast or explosion is created by the hydraulic fracturing process, which has been used in New York since at least the 1950s. Hydraulic fracturing technology is especially helpful for "tight" rocks like shale.

Quantity of water needed for hydraulic fracturing. Hydraulic fracturing of the Marcellus Shale requires large volumes of water to fracture the rocks and produce the desired amount of gas. Each well may use more than one million gallons of water.

The hydraulic fracturing fluid typically contains compounds added to the water to make the hydraulic fracturing process more effective. These may include a friction reducer, a biocide to prevent the growth of bacteria that would damage the well piping or clog the fractures, a gel to carry the proppant into the fractures, and various other agents to make sure the proppant stays in the fractures and to prevent corrosion of the pipes in the well. The Department is assessing the chemical makeup of these additives and will ensure that all necessary safeguards and best practices are followed.

Disposal of hydraulic fracturing fluid

Fluid removed from the well is required by law to be handled, transported and disposed of properly. Horizontal drilling and hydraulic fracturing are legal and common in New York. The majority of wells in the Marcellus Shale will be hydraulically fractured.

Horizontal drilling has been used in New York since the 1980s. A "horizontal well" is first drilled down vertically to a depth above the target gas-bearing rock formation. Special tools are then used to curve the well so that the hole is drilled horizontally within the gas-bearing rock for up to several thousand feet. Ten percent of DEC's 2007 well drilling permits were for directional and horizontal wells.

Except for special tools used underground, horizontal drilling is performed using the same equipment and technology as vertical drilling, with the same protocols in place for aquifer protection, fluid containment and waste handling.

Benefits of horizontal drilling:

- Maximum contact with the gas-bearing rock formation, so that more gas can be produced from a single well.
- Multiple horizontal wells can be drilled laterally from the same surface location, so that less of the ground surface is disturbed compared to using vertical wells to produce the same amount of gas.

Excerpted from NYS Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) website.

Blair Horner got us all fired up about the need for redistricting and explained the strategy: (1) Try to get the current Gianaris-Valesky bill (which creates an independent redistricting commission) passed this year, by putting pressure on the individual legislators. (2) Get the governor candidates to pledge to veto the new district lines if they are drawn to reflect the status quo and partisan advantage – both top candidates have, and they need to be constantly reminded of this. (3) Put off any talk of a NYS constitutional amendment till after this next redistricting is complete (that's because there isn't time to pass an amendment in time to do the 2012 redistricting, and we don't want to give legislators the opportunity to say they won't vote for the bill be-

Roy MacDonald and Joanne Yepsen offer different views on current problems at one of several forums co-sponsored with Spotlight newspaper.
